1. Read the text about extreme sports and answer the questions. (5x5= 25 p.)

Extreme sports are exciting activities for people who love adrenaline and adventure. These sports test your physical strength and require a lot of courage. There are many different types of extreme sports you can do in various environments. For example, skydiving takes place high in the sky and gives you the amazing feeling of flying. Snowboarding is a popular winter sport done on snowy mountains. On the other hand, bobsledding is a more unusual and fast winter sport. In bobsledding, teams race against time on a special, narrow, and icy track in a sled. If you like water, scuba diving lets you explore the beautiful underwater worlds of the oceans. Another exciting water sport is rafting, where people travel through fast-flowing rivers in a boat. In short, extreme sports give people the chance to face challenges and experience nature in unforgettable ways.

3. Read the text and categorize the adjectives mentioned in the text as positive or negative. (10x3=30 p.)

Working in a group project can be interesting because everyone has a different personality. For example, Sarah is always helpful; she loves assisting others when they have a problem. However, her brother Tom is quite selfish and only thinks about his own grades. Luckily, Mary is very punctual, so she always arrives on time for our meetings. Sometimes, David gets jealous when the teacher praises someone else's idea. On the other hand, Lisa is extremely polite and always speaks respectfully to everyone. James is a self-confident boy who believes he can do any presentation perfectly, but he can also be stubborn because he never changes his mind. Nina is a friendly girl who always smiles and gets along well with the team. Unfortunately, Peter is irresponsible; he often forgets to do his homework. Finally, Clara is a bit bossy and always tells us what we should do!
